A WHIPPING POST.
Twenty Lashes Applied to the Back of Andrew Doyle.

An Innovation in the Mode of Criminal Punishment—A Rapiet-Sentence to Nine Months Imprisonment and a Sound Whipping—Details of the Proceeding—Writing and Screaming With Pain Under the Burning Lash.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 5.—For the first time in the history of the maritime provinces the "cat-o'-nine-tails" has been used on the back of a civil prisoner. Andrew Doyle, a man well known about Halifax for his brutal disposition and who was convicted last October of an assault on a six-year-old girl, received the punishment above mentioned in the yard of the county jail. He was sentenced to nine months imprisonment, during which time he should receive twenty lashes on the bare back. The whipping, which was administered in the jail yard, was performed by a sailor belonging to Her Majesty's war ship Griffin, now at this port. There were only six persons present, including two newspaper men. An iron triangle, consisting of three bars, each about nine feet in length, was erected in the yard for the purpose.

The prisoner had been dreading the infliction of the lash, but had not been informed of the impending whipping until the medical officer entered the jail about 5 o'clock p. m. When told that the time had arrived Doyle trembled violently. He was directed to strip to the waist, which he did. With a swinging walk he approached the dreaded triangle. The sailor who was to do the whipping stood there quietly puffing a cigar, apparently thinking very little of the work before him. He held in his hand two slender "cats." The whip beyond the handle was a little over a foot in length, the nine tails at the end of each bearing being several small, hard knobs. The material was of no greater thickness than an ordinary fishing line, but very tough. Walking over to where the sailor stood, Doyle grasped him by the hand, shook it heartily and asked him to be as easy as possible and not strike in one place.

Immediately the work of securing Doyle to the iron triangle was performed. Drawing back a couple of feet from the triangle, the sailor rolled up the right sleeve of his jacket, and, taking one of the two "cats" in his right hand, it was raised above his head. "Count," he cried to one of those present, and the whip descended with a sharp report on the prisoner's naked back. On the lash being lifted the second time a narrow streak was visible on Doyle's back and a slight shudder passed through his frame, but he at once regained his former composure. But on the lash having fallen the fifth time Doyle began to writhe and squirm.

Though he as yet had uttered no sound, his back was beginning to look rather red but no blood had appeared. On the third tenth, however, an agonized cry was heard, and during the remainder of the whipping Doyle shouted with apparently increasing pain. The twentieth stroke having been laid on the man was untied, and the doctor, taking a sponge soaked in water washed the lacerated back. Only on small stream of blood was descending on the left side of Doyle's back, but after the sponge had been applied the surface looked very badly and the marks of the "cat" were plainly seen. The whipper has struck in almost the same spot at every stroke, and the effect of the lashing was only visible over a limited surface. The seaman who performed the whipping received $5 for his task.

A BRAHMIN TRAMP.

Entering College and Getting Married His Specialties.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 5.—About four years ago a converted Brahmin priest came to Akron. He wore a long, dirty yellow robe, with a turban around his head and on his forehead were three streaks of paint. He called himself the Rev. Tadapatry Veeragaraya Roy. He entered Buchtel College and easily got into the good graces of the professors and soon after his arrival two young women turned up, who claimed to have been married to him, and President McCollister immediately dismissed him from the college. From Akron he went to Westerville with one of his wives but soon deserted her and she had to go to the Alms-House.

At Westerville, Roy attempted to enter Otterbein University, but the President learned of his knavery elsewhere and ordered him to leave town. He next tried to enter Western Reserve College, but was known there also. At Cincinnati he married another wife whom he also deserted. He then went to Pennsylvania and was admitted to Lafayette College, where he remained but a short time before his rascality was discovered. For a time he was at Rutgers College, then at the University of Pennsylvania. Last April he was heard from in some Western jail, having been arrested for theft and bigamy. Last week he attempted to enter Wittenburg College, Springfield, O., but the authorities came across a leaf of his history in a college paper, and refused to let him in. When he first appeared in Springfield he gave lectures on the highway, closing with touching religious services.

Two Circus Riders Killed.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 5.—Mlle. Celestia, a rider with Barnum's circus, who was thrown from her horse in this city and badly injured, has died at Stevens' Point. A rider whose name can not be learned was also thrown from his horse during the performance at that place and instantly killed.

THE WRONG HORSE.

An Unknown Man Commits Suicide in a Gun Store.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 5.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening a neatly dressed man, aged about twenty-five years, walked into a city gun store and asked to be shown some revolvers. The salesman examined all carefully, testing the locks and noting the size of the cylinders, and turning to go away, saying what he had seen was not large enough for his purpose. He was called back and shown a revolver of the largest caliber. This suited him, and he tendered a fifty dollar bill in payment, first requesting that the weapon be loaded. Five cartridges were placed in the cylinder, and the clerk turned to obtain change for the bill. While thus engaged he heard a sharp click, and, turning quickly, saw the man holding the revolver against his right temple. The next instant there was a report, and the man fell dead, the brains oozing out on the floor. There was nothing in his pockets save a large number of pool tickets on horses which had lost in recent races and a card bearing the name "C. Phillips." The body has been viewed by a large number of persons, but has not been identified. The only theory of the suicide is that the man lost heavily on horses, and finding himself with only $50 left, decided to devote that to the purchase of a revolver with which to end his life.

SAFETY VALVES.

Inspector Starbuck Thinks He has Made a Discovery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Supervising Inspector Starbuck has made a report to Inspector Dumont upon his visit to the wreck of the James Robinson at Albany. He refers to the fact that a piece of the shell of the boiler, with the neck of the dome attached, weighing a ton, was blown 400 feet, that another piece, the front head, was blown 300 feet north and another 300 feet south. The latter is to be taken out of the river by the owner for inspection. He then says: "There were two safety valves on the boiler—one an ordinary lever valve, the other a Richardson pop-valve. They are both in the possession of the local inspectors. The pop-valve has the appearance of having been screwed down to prevent its blowing. Inspector Harvey will make measurements of the valve, the distance the nut was in the shell and the distance from the top of the shell to the spring, and will send the valve to Mr. Richardson to straighten the spindle that had been bent. The valve will then be tested, with the spring in the same position as to compression that it now is, and the result reported." The boiler-shell will also be tested.

A JOURNALISTIC WAR.

John G. Thompson Assaulted by Harry S. New at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—The relentless personal newspaper war that has long been waged against John C. New, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and family, by John G. Thompson, now editor of the Washington, D. C., Sunday Chronicle, has again culminated in an assault on the author of the scurrilous articles. Harry S. New, junior proprietor and city editor of the Journal, met Thompson on the street, and, without any preliminaries, struck him two sharp blows in the face. Thompson made a movement as if he wanted to shoot, and New drew a revolver, when bystanders interfered. Thompson pitilessly besought the crowd to protect him, and shouted lustily for the police, who soon arrested both the participants for assault. They furnished bail and were released. Thompson has been on a visit to his mother at Shelbyville. New cowhided him during the Legislature of 1881, and this was their first meeting since then. Thompson's attacks have been of the most abusive and offensive nature, and public sentiment is all on the side of Mr. New.

A Railroad Collision.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 5.—Early in the morning a mail train on the C. I., St. L. & C. ran into the rear of a freight train a few miles outside of the city. There was only one person on the freight caboose and he was thrown several feet, being severely but not fatally injured. The engineer and fireman of the mail jumped in time to save their lives. The passengers of the latter train were badly shaken up and badly scared, but none of them hurt. Several freight cars were telescoped and the mail train engine badly smashed up, involving the loss of a good many thousand dollars. The cause of the accident was delay on the part of the freight in getting upon a side track in time to allow the mail to pass.

Arrest of a Supposed Bank Robber.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Patrick Ryan about thirty years of age, was arrested in this city by Special Agent Newcomb of the Postoffice Department, assisted by Pinkerton's detectives, on a charge of being one of the gang of desperadoes that have for months past been engaged in robbing banks and postoffices in Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York. The prisoner was taken before Commissioner Shields and committed for trial. Two men named Dick Hadley and Frank Howard, who are supposed to be members of the gang, were recently arrested in Connecticut, and are now lodged in Litchfield jail awaiting trial.

Eastern Roads Using Standard Time.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—At noon Sunday the railroads comprising the lines between Boston and Montreal, with the exception of the Boston & Lowell road, which will adopt the system a week later, will begin to run trains on Eastern standard time, that of the seventy-fifth meridian. This is sixteen minutes slower than Boston time, which has heretofore been the standard. It is expected that before the close of October most roads in the United States east of Buffalo, and in Canada east of Detroit, will adopt the seventy-fifth meridian.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Further Sad Details of Its Prevalence in Mexico.

Only Five Members of a Traveling Opera Company Survive—The Interior Towns Suffering Untold Miseries—The Courts All Closed and Judges Flying for Their Lives—Ignorance of Physicians Largely Responsible for the Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Letters now being received from Guaymas and other points in Mexico show that not half of the truth has been told of the ravages of yellow fever at those unfortunate cities. One received from George Treat, the well known pioneer of California, better known as the owner of the famous race horse, Thad Stevens, dated at Mazatlan, says: "In order to give some idea of the violence of the scourge in this city, out of the opera company, numbering thirty-one members, seventeen have died, including the prima donna Peralta, in less than three weeks, and within two weeks more only five of the original troupe were left living. The medical men were all sick and two of them died. The victims were buried hastily and uncoffined. Three hours was the usual interval between death and burial. For the last week the deaths have not averaged more than twenty a day. The disease is sweeping the interior towns like wildfire. The courts are all closed, the Judges having fled beyond the jurisdiction of Yellow Jack. The spread of the disease is believed to be largely due to the ignorance displayed by the physicians as to the character of the fever."

GUAYMAS, Mexico, Oct. 5.—There have been only three deaths in the last two days. Twenty-six are reported from Hermosillo, and all along the road are victims overtaken by the fever and unable to proceed further. News from Yaqui river reports the spread of the fever among the Indians. A letter received announces the death of two of a party who left there in August to survey the Tocolovampo Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Fireman Johnson, one of the five yellow fever patients aboard the steamer Newbern, has died. The quarantine officer took off the vessel a metallic casket filled with charcoal. The body will be placed in it, hermetically sealed, and buried in an unfrequented part outside the city limits. The second officer has also taken a bad turn, doubts of his recovery being entertained. The remaining three are still doing well. No new cases have developed aboard the steamer, nor has any sign of the disease made its appearance on the land.

THE PITTSBURG RUINS.

Origin of the Fire Wrapped in Mystery—Suspicious.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 5.—The scene of the conflagration attracted large crowds, many of whom were strangers. Among the ruins were swarms of men at work, clearing the debris away and delving into the heaps of charred wood, or exploring the depths of a pool of water in hope of finding something of value. There were also a number of women, small exhibitors, who had lost their little all in the fire, and who still kept up a search in a despairing way, hoping to save something from the general ruins. It is when looking at sights such as this that the sadness of the calamity strikes the spectator. The origin of the fire is still unknown, and the further it is probed the more mystery surrounds it. The exposition managers hold firmly to the belief that it was the work of an incendiary and not by an explosion of benzine. The latest theory is that it was set on fire for the purpose of robbery. The aggregate loss will reach one million, while the insurance is not one-fifth this amount. The exposition society are having a high fence erected around the grounds, and next Saturday evening propose giving a pyrotechnic display.

THE ATKINSON MYSTERY.

Still No Clue to the Perpetrator of the Deed.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 5.—There are no new developments in the Ada Atkinson case, and the mystery remains as impenetrable as ever. Nobody believes old man Potts guilty, and only some of the detectives affect to do so. This is for the purpose of covering their present bewilderment and profound ignorance of any clue to the crime. There is a cock and bull story afloat regarding a certain horse and buggy being driven at a breakneck speed in the vicinity of the Atkinson house about the time of the murder which, in the lack of anything rational, is being discussed a good deal. If this vehicle is not altogether a myth, it will most likely turn out to be nothing more formidable than the conveyance of some respectable people of the neighborhood in a hurry to get home. The situation, in other words, may be summed up in the statement that the amount of information at to who murdered the unhappy child is precisely equal at the present writing to that which was possessed on the day the murder was discovered.

A Desperado Captured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Cabe Young, the notorious Texas desperado and murderer, arrived here from Wyoming Territory in charge of a detective of Captain Tuttle's agency. Cabe was leader of the Cabe brothers' gang of border desperados, who murdered by wholesale in Texas in '76 to '78, and is wanted here for murder, arson, cattle stealing and highway robbery. He left for San Antonio.

STONEWALL'S WIDOW.

A Card in Answer to Criticisms Upon Her Visit to Boston.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 5.—Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, the widow of the distinguished Confederate chieftain, who has just returned from Boston, published a card. In it she says that finding some comments in the Southern press not entirely just to herself and daughter, she wishes to correct some of the statements. She says herself and daughter, in company with Governor Jarvis of North Carolina, and his wife, visited the Boston exposition as guests of Massachusetts, and not, as she and they understand it, of Governor Butler. She accepted the invitation she says, by the advice of Southern friends. While in Boston, Mr. Jackson says their party remained at the hotel, and did not cross the threshold of Governor Butler's residence. The people of Boston, and elsewhere North, Mrs. Jackson declares, gave evidence that her husband's name was held in high honor and reverence. She said:

"I was told they admired him for his moral grandeur, his exalted piety; that he was the bravest man the war produced on either side, and that they were proud of him as an American. Surely, there must be enough chivalry and right feeling on the part of all true Southerners to cast no blame upon me for having been the means of evoking such sentiments."

A BIG ENTERPRISE.

Mecca to Be Tunnelled for Her Fine Oil.

MECCA, O., Oct. 5.—A tunnel for lubricating oil is about to be driven at this place, under the management of a company organized in New York, with Silas B. Dutcher as president. The oil is found in an area fifteen miles in length by five miles wide. It is estimated that 500,000 barrels have been taken out by pumping wells at an average of forty feet, which would represent, at its present value of $20 per barrel, $10,000,000. It has been demonstrated that a tunnel about six feet by three feet will pay to cut through a strata of shale that forms the division between two layers of sandstone which has the appearance of maple sugar. The company has two square miles of territory in the heart of the best developed region, and should the yield be but one pint per foot per day, it would pay thirty-three and one-third per cent. on the capital stock of $1,000,000. The tunnel will be four miles long.

BLOODY DUEL.

Two Southern Rivals Carve Each Other With Knives.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 5.—A frightful duel with knives is reported from Black Fork Creek, Choctaw Nation. Two young men, cousins, named Austin Guthrie and Franklin Meyers, rivals for the affection of a young and beautiful girl, quarreled and proceeded to blows. They were on horseback, and drawing knives they commenced a contest which lasted several minutes, and which resulted in both receiving fatal wounds. Meyers' arm was almost severed, and he was cut about the face and breast. Guthrie was wounded in the legs and body. Both fainted and fell from their horses, and were found unconscious, lying in a pool of blood by the roadside.

SMALL-POX.

Tennessee State Health Board Discussing It.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 5.—The State Board of Health discussed at length the question of the prevention of small-pox and the management of the disease. It was stated that Davidson county alone had expended the sum of $10,000 in attempting individual quarantine up to the present time, and that other counties had incurred great expense in the same way. The Board has asked the Attorney General of the State for a construction of existing laws in regard to the authority of the body, as they are exceedingly anxious to exhaust every means that they may have the authority to use in exterminating the pestilence, especially in view of its possible extension during the coming cold weather. As soon as their authority can be determined, they will act in the premises with vigor and determination.

Castle Garden Statistics.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The arrivals of immigrants at Castle Garden during the last month numbered 32,900, against 33,531 for the same month last year—a decrease of 631. Thus far this year 317,856 immigrants have arrived, against 377,049 for the same period last year. The report of the labor bureau for the past month shows that 1,067 males and 765 females have been supplied with employment. The number of cabin passengers who arrived during the past month was greater than has ever been known before in one month, the total number, including those who have arrived, being 11,218, an increase of 883 over the same month last year, which was an unusually heavy month in this respect.

Butler's Campaign Document.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—A novelty in the way of a campaign document will be scattered broadcast by Butler's managers, headed, "Regular Republican ticket." It is printed in ballot form on material which is an imitation of a human cuticle after tanning and dressing. It bears the names for State officers of the gentlemen prominent in defense of the Tewksbury almshouse.

An Irish Sensation Promised.

DUBLIN, Oct. 5.—United Ireland, the league organ, states that an official, intimately connected with the detection of crime in Dublin, will be suspended from office. The cause of his suspension, it says, is likely to create a sensation when it is made public.

THE shipments of coal on the present rise in the river are estimated to be about three million bushels.

THERE are one hundred and twenty-one soldiers of the war of 1812, still living in Kentucky, according to the Louisville Post.

A FRANKFORT despatch says in the Norvell-Cecil case, the taking of depositions has been finished, and the fact that Cecil made a bargain with Norvell and Sheldon clearly established.

CITIZENS interested in the reform movement at Cincinnati have raised $15,000, which will be used at the coming election to prevent and punish repeaters and posters have been put up all over the city offering $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of any and all illegal voters.

THE Sheriff of Carter county having applied to Gov. Knott for a company of militia to aid in preserving order at the hanging of Ellis Craft, October 12th, the latter refused to give the order, saying it was the duty of the Sheriff to use every means within his power to secure the peace, by summoning a posse, if necessary, and by arresting and prosecuting any person who refuses to obey his order.

THE Covington Commonwealth says: The law allows the circulation through the mails of the vilest sheets ever printed, illustrated by the nastiest pictures base ingenuity can suggest than which nothing could be more corrupting. The law forbids the use of the mails to lottery men. The law pursues card gamblers with relentless vengeance. The law takes no notice of grain and provision gamblers, whose operations are a hundred fold more extensive and disastrous. The law is unjust in its discriminations.

BEFORE sinking the old 3-cent stamp into total oblivion it will not be amiss to look back upon its long term of useful service to the people of this country. It was created by an act of March 3, 1851. Previous to that the domestic rate was five cents. The three-cent rate was only for distances under 3,000 miles, and over that it was six cents. In 1863 Congress wiped out the distance clause and gave the three-cent rate for all parts of the United States. From that time to last Monday there was no change in the postal rates for domestic matter, while there have been large reductions in second, third and fourth-class matter. The reduction of postal rates is merely an experiment upon the part of the Government. It is estimated that at the end of the next fiscal year there will be a deficiency of about $2,000,000 in the Postoffice Department resulting from the reduction which soon will be distributed among the citizens of the United States in the way of penny savings.

The city father of Ocala, Fla., passed an ordinance forbidding concealed weapons, and now they have a small armory and don't know what to do with it.

There are only six distilleries of rum in the country, and all six are in Massachusetts. Of nearly 500,000 gallons of rum exported last year the greater part went to Africa.

Marshall P. Wilder, at the dinner given to him in Boston, was able to say: "When I came to this city there was not a mile of railroad on this continent, now there are 120,000 miles."

Otto Clubstien, of Newark, believes that his redoubtable setter dog has died of grief. The dog was worsted in a fight with another dog, being severely bitten on the neck. He ran away and was last evening found lying dead, with his head on a gravestone in the old burying ground in the rear of Minnehaha Engine House.

A Grand Lodge (Mich.) man has invented a pneumatic fly-catcher, which, when set in motion, draws into it all the flies, etc., in the room and destroys them. It is gauged so as to draw the line at humble bees, and therefore nothing larger can be drawn in, so that kittens and babies are in no danger.

A curiosity of divorce legislation is found in the act of Georgia, passed March 18, 1865, just before the Confederacy collapsed, to the effect that a divorce may be granted to loyal females whose husbands are in the service of the United States, or have been voluntarily within the lines of the enemy, giving them aid and comfort.

Wm. Sharp was arrested for owing $1 board money in Red Fork, Ark. The judge having imposed $10 fine, the prisoner had to go to jail. Thence he was taken out by Alfred Werner, who had a contract to work the county prisoners on a farm. Werner whipped him to death in six days. A coroner's jury made a verdict of willful murder, and Judge Merritt, of Desha county, admitted Werner to bail in $1,000 and permitted him to go out of the county to get two irresponsible bondsmen. Werner is at large and the best people of Red Fork have in mass meeting expressed their sense of Judge Merritt's maladministration of the law.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.
D. M. Runyon—Cash dry goods house.

TO-MORROW when the bells ring out Churchward you should go, To pray, of course, and then to see Old Maysville's Jersey show.

The sidewalk at Limestone bridge is being repaired.

Birds and rabbits are reported to be very numerous in this neighborhood.

The City Council has contributed $100 for the relief of the Hord's Hill sufferers.

Mr. CHAS. MARTIN, road master of the street railway, has been removed and is succeeded by Mr. Richard Key.

One part of sulphuric acid to two hundred of water is said to be the best of all disinfectants for yards that have been visited with chicken cholera.

The other day when the lightning ran along the wire into the Maysville telegraph office, John Gibson thought that a phenomenal man was at work on a hasty message. "Don't send so fast," he protested.

A HOGSHEAD of tobacco grown by John Figgins, of the Augusta precinct, was sold at Cincinnati last week for $30 a hundred pounds. This is the highest price received this season for tobacco grown in the Mason district.

CHARLES BROCKMAN, who is confined in the jail at Brooksville to answer the charge of rape, was detected a few days ago in an attempt to escape. A search disclosed that somebody had provided him with a saw and revolver.

The marshall of Maysville has reported to the council that he has assessed for taxation about one hundred of the city hogs. He has done good work but there remains about one thousand nine hundred more to be assessed before his labor is completed.

HAUCKE's reed and brass band will go to Cincinnati on Sunday by the steamer Queen City on an excursion. The boat will leave Maysville at eight o'clock. The people of Cincinnati will thus have an opportunity of hearing one of the best bands in the country.

Mr. D. M. RUNYON, proprietor of the new cash dry goods store, announces elsewhere some attractive bargains for Monday next. The prices offered are very low, and the articles to be sold are of good quality. The ladies are invited to call and inspect the stock. See advertisement.

To remove fish bones from the throat, Professor Vololini, of Breslau, recommends a gargle composed of muriatic acid, four parts; nitric acid, one part, and water, two hundred and forty parts. The teeth have to be protected by lard or oil. The fishbones become flexible, and they disappear entirely after a short time.

The following is from the Bracken Chronicle: Dr. T. S. Bradford, assisted by Dr. H. K. Adamson, of Maysville, and Drs. McCormick and Moneyhon, this city, amputated Mr. Evans' little daughter's limb last Tuesday. She has been an invalid for years from white swelling, and the affection had progressed so much that amputation had to be resorted to, to prolong life, and it is hoped produced permanent recovery. At last accounts the patient is doing well.

THREE stores and the postoffice at Rome, O., were broken into on the night of the 4th inst., by thieves and $150 in money and a considerable quantity of merchandise stolen. The thieves subsequently stole a skiff and going down the river landed four miles below Manchester. Here they attempted to sink their boat, and concealed five sacks containing the stolen property in the willows near where the landing was made. The thieves escaped but are closely pursued by a posse of citizens and it is expected their capture will be made to-day.

The following additions have lately been made to the Library of the Mason County Historical Society:

PERSONALS.

Miss Anna M. Atkinson is at St. Louis attending the fair.

Miss Mamie Richeson is visiting Miss Ollie Cochran at Covington.

Mrs. George W. Hall, of Lexington, is visiting Mrs. Charles H. Frank.

Mr. George G. Glascock, of Indiana, is visiting the family of A. R. Glascock.

Miss Nannie Hook, of Paris, has returned home, after a visit to friends in this city.

Miss Mamie Connell, of Paris, after a pleasant visit to Miss Laura Shea, has returned home.

Mrs. Richard Henry Lee and daughter, Mrs. Capron, of Baltimore, are the guests of Mrs. Emily Dobyns.

Dr. J. D. Dougherty, of Helena, we regret to hear, is dangerously ill with malarial fever. He was attended by Dr. A. G. Browning, of this city, and Dr. H. L. Parry, of Mayslick.

Dr. T. C. Widney and family, of St. Louis, are visiting Hon. D. K. Weis, at Ashland. Dr. Widney, who is a son-in-law of Mr. Weis, expects to locate at Los Angeles, California.

Miss Louise Stockstill, who has been the guest of Miss Fannie Owens, returned home Friday. Miss Stockstill is one of the most popular young ladies that ever visited this city, and will be pleasantly remembered by many attached friends.

Dr. S. M. Worthington, a graduate of Chicago Homoeopathic Medical College, has recently located in Charleston, West Virginia. He is a worthy member of one of our most respected families, and having a liberal education, we hope that he will meet in his new location with the success to which his merits entitles him.
